

Profile

Building (advice), Engineering and Property disciplines arouse my interest.

I am always interested in an area where I can use my passion for structural engineering. In my work I seek, variety, autonomy, flexibility and dynamic environment. I am also someone who is a pragmatic thinker and quickly learn in practice. People in my area describe me as a handy, practical and accurate person who want to bring his work to a successful ending. I am also someone who does not like to sit still and therefore always has something to do. In the coming years, I want to broaden my knowledge and deepen in order to grow.
